Job Title: After School Club & Library Session Facilitator (Part-Time)

Location: South Yorkshire, Barnsley & Sheffield

Hours: Part-time, flexible hours (typically afternoons, after school, and early evenings).

Job Description:

We are looking for enthusiastic and reliable staff to join our team in delivering engaging after school clubs and library sessions, with a focus on tabletop games. This is a part-time role, ideal for someone who enjoys working with children and young people, and has a passion for games, learning, and community engagement. The sessions are designed to give children the opportunity to explore strategy, teamwork, and creativity through board games and tabletop activities. You will play a key role in helping participants develop social skills, build confidence, and enjoy positive, structured play, outside of school hours.

Responsibilities:

- Plan and deliver fun, safe, and inclusive after-school club sessions.
- Lead tabletop game sessions, introducing and supporting children and young people in learning new games, explaining rules clearly and adapting them to suit different ages and abilities.
- Support the running of library based activities for all ages.
- Provide a welcoming, supportive environment that promotes social interaction and skill development, where all participants feel able to join in.
- Support schools and libraries in engaging children and young people in extracurricular and community activities.
- Ensure safeguarding, health & safety, and behaviour policies are followed at all times.

Ideal Candidate:

- Experience working with children or young people.
- An interest in tabletop games.
- Patient, approachable, and adaptable when working with children of different ages and abilities, with the ability to manage groups effectively.
- Reliable, flexible, and organised.
- A commitment to safeguarding and inclusivity.
- Full driving license required
- DBS check required

If you're looking for a rewarding role in supporting children's learning and development through engaging activities, apply now and join our growing team!
